A verse can express a spiritual truth without being historical.

Each time the subject of a verse changes from “Yahweh” to “God” and vice versa, there is a new paragraph.

(Because of Microsoft software problems, verses can independently move from where they have been placed. A ` has been placed on each vacant line in order to try to stop the verses from moving so much from where they have been placed.)

2:1 In the seventh month, in the one and twentieth day of the month, came the word of the Lord by the prophet Haggai, saying, 2 Speak now to Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and to Joshua the son of Josedech, the high priest, and to the residue of the people, saying, 3 Who is left among you that saw this house in her first glory? and how do ye see it now? is it not in your eyes in comparison of it as nothing? 4 Yet now be strong, O Zerubbabel, saith the Lord; and be strong, O Joshua, son of Josedech, the high priest; and be strong, all ye people of the land, saith the Lord, and work: for I am with you, saith the Lord of hosts: 5 According to the word that I covenanted with you when ye came out of Egypt, so my spirit remaineth among you: fear ye not.	2:1 In the seventh month, on the twenty-first day of the month, this word of the Lord came by the prophet Haggai, 2 “Say now to Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and to Joshua the son of Josedech, the high priest, and to the residue of the people, 3 “Who is left among you that saw this temple in her first glory? And how do you see it now? Is it almost as nothing now in your eyes?” 4 God says, “Yet now be strong, O Zerubbabel, and be strong, O Joshua, son of Josedech, the high priest; and be strong, all you people of the land and work. For I, God, am with you. 5 “According to the word that I covenanted with you when you came out of Egypt, so My spirit remains among you; Do not be afraid.” 6 The Lord God of hosts says, “Yet once in a little

6 For thus saith the Lord of hosts; Yet once, it is a little while, and I will shake the heavens, and the earth, and the sea, and the dry land;
 7 And I will shake all nations, and the desire of all nations shall come: and I will fill this house with glory, saith the Lord of hosts.
 8 The silver is mine, and the gold is mine, saith the Lord of hosts.
 9 The glory of this latter house shall be greater than of the former, saith the Lord of hosts: and in this place will I give peace, saith the Lord of hosts.
 10 ¶ In the four and twentieth day of the ninth month, in the second year of Darius, came the word of the Lord by Haggai the prophet, saying,
 11 Thus saith the Lord of hosts; Ask now the priests concerning the law, saying,
 12 If one bear holy flesh in the skirt of his garment, and with his skirt do touch bread, or pottage, or wine, or oil, or any meat, shall it be holy? And the priests answered and said, No.
 13 Then said Haggai, If one that is unclean by a dead body touch any of these, shall it be unclean? And the priests answered and said, It shall be unclean.
 14 Then answered Haggai, and said, So is this people, and so is this nation before me, saith the Lord; and so is every work of their hands; and that which they offer there is unclean.
 15 And now, I pray you, consider from this day and upward, from before a stone was laid upon a stone in the temple of the Lord:
 16 Since those days were, when one came to an heap of twenty measures, there were but ten: when one came to the pressfat for to draw out fifty vessels out of the press, there were but twenty.
 17 [I smote you with blasting and with mildew and with hail in all the labours of your hands; yet ye turned not to me, saith the Lord.]
 18 Consider now from this day and upward, from the four and twentieth day of the ninth month, even from the day that the foundation of the Lord'S temple was laid, consider it.
 19 Is the seed yet in the barn? yea, as yet the vine, and the fig tree, and the pomegranate, and the olive tree, hath not brought forth: from this day will I bless you.
 20 ¶ And again the word of the Lord came unto while, I will shake the heavens, the earth, the sea, and the dry land.

 7 "And I will shake all nations, and the desire of all nations shall come; and I will fill this temple with glory.
 8 "The silver is Mine, and the gold is Mine."
 9 The Lord of hosts says, "The glory of this latter temple shall be greater than of the former, and in this place I will give peace."
 10 On the twenty-fourth day of the ninth month, in the second year of Darius, this word of the Lord came by Haggai the prophet.
 11 "The Lord of hosts says, 'Ask now the priests concerning the law, saying,
 12 "'If one has holy flesh from a sacrifice in a fold of his robe, and with his robe touches bread, or cooked food, or wine, or olive oil, or any meat, shall it be made holy?' And the priests answered, 'No.'"
 13 Then Haggai said, "If one who has been made ritually impure by a dead body touches any of these, shall it be made ritually impure?" And the priests answered, "Yes, it shall be ritually impure."
 14 Then Haggai said, "The Lord says, 'So are these people, and so is this nation before Me; and so is every work of their hands. Thus that which they offer on the altar is ritually impure because it is not offered in My temple.
 15 "'And now, I pray you, consider the days before a stone was laid upon a stone to build the foundation of the temple of the Lord.
 16 "'In those days when one came to a heap of what should have been twenty measures of grain, there were only ten. When one came to draw fifty gallons of wine out of the vat, he found only twenty.
 17 "'I struck you with blasting, with mildew, and with hail in all the labors of your hands; yet you did not turn to Me, the Lord.
 18 "'Consider now from this day forward, from the twenty-fourth day of the ninth month, even from the day that the foundation of the Lord's temple was laid, consider it.
 19 "'Though the seed is still in the barn, though the vine, the fig tree, the pomegranate, and the olive tree have not brought forth yet, from this day forward I will bless you.'"
 20 And this word of the Lord came to Haggai on the

Haggai in the four and twentieth day of the month, saying, 21 Speak to Zerubbabel, governor of Judah, saying, I will shake the heavens and the earth; 22 And I will overthrow the throne of kingdoms, and I will destroy the strength of the kingdoms of the heathen; and I will overthrow the chariots, and those that ride in them; and the horses and their riders shall come down, every one by the sword of his brother. 23 In that day, saith the Lord of hosts, will I take thee, O Zerubbabel, my servant, the son of Shealtiel, saith the Lord, and will make thee as a signet: for I have chosen thee, saith the Lord of hosts.	twenty-fourth day of the month, 21 "Say to Zerubbabel, governor of Judah, on My behalf, 'I the Lord will shake the heavens and the earth. 22 "And I will overthrow the throne of kingdoms, and I will destroy the strength of the kingdoms of the heathen. And I will overthrow the chariots and those who ride in them, and the horses and their riders shall fall, everyone by the sword of their fellow soldiers. 23 "On that day I will take you, O Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, My servant. And I will make you like a signet (the sign of My authority); for I have chosen you."
